

Strategy Consultant/Associate (m/f/d)

Healthcare & Life Sciences

Berlin

Graduates (m/f)
(MSc, MA, MBA, PhD)

Full time
Starting now

We are an international strategy and transaction advisory firm specialized in the healthcare and life science industries. We accompany our customers in their strategy and business development, as well as in the initiation of strategic partnerships, mergers and acquisitions.

Your Responsibilities & Perspectives

- As an Associate, you will closely work with our Senior Partners on strategy and transaction projects for clients in the Pharma, Biotech and MedTech industries.
- In co-operation with the BGM team and client representatives you will work on creative solutions for our clients' strategic and operational challenges.
- You will be responsible for market, competition, and innovation research and support the strategic analysis of our clients' firms and their related industries. Comprehensive strategic due diligence as well as financial modelling will be part of your job.
- You will be prepared by our Senior Partners to gradually take on greater responsibility in project and client management, as well as in project acquisition.
- You will have the opportunity to take over controlling and administrative tasks to support BGM's management in the further development of its business and the company.

Your Profile

- Master's degree in Business Administration/Strategic Marketing, Health Economics, or
- Master's degree in life-science related study programs (e.g. Biology, Bio-Engineering, Biochemistry, Medicine) with additional business qualification/certifications
- Vivid interest in healthcare and life sciences preferably coupled with first practical industry experience (e.g. extended internships or first industry assignments)
- Strong analytical and problem-solving capabilities, curiosity, creativity, a high degree of self-initiative, and an entrepreneurial mindset
- Strong communication and social skills
- Excellent command of Microsoft Word, Excel, and PowerPoint
- Very good proficiency in English; at least intermediate German skills
- Flexibility and mobility as required for client projects

Apply now by sending your CV and cover letter to Ms. Angela Shao at careers@bgmassociates.com

Please feel free to contact us via e-Mail or phone should you have any questions.

Tel +49 (0) 30 814 871 26 | careers@bgmassociates.com
www.bgmassociates.com